Former Christian Educator Fills a Gap in Teaching Children the Christian Worldview

Elizabeth Urbanowicz (er-ban-o-wits) is a follower of Jesus Christ who is passionate about equipping kids to understand the truth of the Christian worldview.

She holds a B.S. from Gordon College in Elementary Education and Spanish, an M.S.Ed. from Northern Illinois University in Literacy Education, and an M.A. in Christian Apologetics from Biola University. Elizabeth began her professional career as an elementary teacher in a Christian school.

Several years into her teaching experience, Elizabeth realized that despite being raised in Christian homes, attending a Christian school, and being active in church, her students thought more like the culture than like Christ. Elizabeth began searching for curricular materials that would equip her students to think critically, helping them discover that Christianity is the worldview that lines up with reality. After not finding any materials that met this need, she began creating a curriculum for her students.

Elizabeth first taught Foundation Comparative Worldview Curriculum as an after-school class for third through fifth graders, and the results were incredible! Students were transformed from passive recipients of information to active evaluators of every message they receive. Parents and teachers alike noticed the impact these materials had on students' media consumption, academic achievement, and everyday habits. This transformation lasted beyond the elementary years and guided students' thinking in junior high and beyond.

Elizabeth now works full-time on developing comparative worldview and apologetics resources for children. Her goal is to prepare the next generation to be lifelong critical thinkers and, most importantly, lifelong disciples of Jesus Christ.

Elizabeth has appeared on Mike Winger's YouTube channel, Alisa Childers YouTube channel, The Beat with Allen Parr, and many more podcasts and YouTube channels.

What the Foundation Worldview community is saying:

Dana S. "Yes! I have shared the website link with several friends, teachers and church leaders! The lessons are practical, "user friendly" and so critical for our children today!"

Jennifer T. "The lessons are extremely easy to follow and implement. I love the worksheets and being able to print them out and complete them along with the video lesson. My daughter loves this curriculum and asks me when we're doing our next lesson, because she's eager to keep going! She especially loves the lessons that involve activities/games! (She is 9yrs old). Thank you so much for this amazing curriculum, and helping parents be able to give our kids a solid Biblical worldview so they can better contend for their faith!"

Caroline S. "Having this worldview curriculum has really helped support our Bible learning at home. The kids are able to identify different worldviews and explain how Christianity is different. It has helped to solidify my understanding too! Thank you for making such a fabulous and needed curriculum."

Marla V. "I recently asked if what we're learning is useful in my child's life. She talked about how she was able to stand up for creationism against evolution in the classroom. Many friends are other religions and she can talk intelligently about different religions and how they differ from Christianity. As a teacher, the plans are very well written. The activities are fun and engaging.:"
